

Se non legge correttamente questo messaggio, cliccare qui
If you do not correctly read this message, click here

New product line : CarbonVel™

Pro-Systems during last Mipel edition, held in Milan from 15th to 18th of September 2013, presented to the major players in the sector, the new product line CarbonVel™ made with carbon fibre addressed to high level leather industry receiving an immediate interest and appreciation from the customers for the quality and the originality of the presented products.

The new product line CarbonVel™ is furthermore destined to new concept applications in the world of fashion, in the interior design, in the automotive and in the nautical for high level internal parts.

These products are basically based on carbon fabrics with original weaves and special finishing, developed by Pro-Systems' R&D team and other connected Companies, offering a particularly pleasant look and a soft touch , granting high resistance to flexibility and abrasion tests.

With this line of products Pro-Systems combines the extraordinary property of carbon fibers to the creativity of his own production, offering an extremely pleasant, versatile and technologic product of high quality as the whole production.

Pro-Systems' marketing and commercial structures are at disposal to supply the best possible assistance and technical information about our several products concerning the CarbonVel™ line.

For any inquiries please write to pro-systems@pro-systems.it

► PROTECTION

► COMPOSITES

► TECHNICAL TEXTILES INDUSTRY

